

Biography Christof Egli

- Christof Egli holds a Masters in Science of the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETH) and has successfully completed the post-graduate course on data protection and information security of the Lucerne University of Applied Sciences.
- He is an information security specialist specialised in risk analysis of technical systems.
- He leads the swiss InfoSurance SME-working group that has developed several information security advisories for SMEs.
- He has developed a methodology to identify critical infrastructures in various sectors and conducted an analysis of the Swiss telecommunication and banking sector.