

Diffusion models require more computation than other models.

The computation scales super-quadratically with resolution.